

The Kimball House

The Victorian-era elegance of the Kimball House has hosted intimate dinner parties, weddings, business retreats, meetings, and presentations. The main floor includes a formal dining room, sitting room, and a mahogany porch in addition to a stately library, which features a beautiful double-sided fireplace.

The bay windows of the Kimball House's second-floor great room offer wonderful natural lighting that highlights the room's large fireplace and woodwork, while the third-floor board room is a perfect location for business retreats, planning meetings, and presentations.

The Governor's Hall

The Governor's Hall has quickly become the region's preferred site for business meetings, weddings, private functions, company parties, and exhibits. Victorian-style woodwork, carpeting, and lighting make the hall warm and inviting. The bar area, which incorporates the theater's old ticket booth, is a delightful point of conversation.

A slide-away wall that separates the main hall from the lobby creates a wonderful transition between a lobby registration area/cocktail hour and the Governor's Hall, perfectly suited for an elegant evening of dinner and dancing.
